EMILY AUSTIN SOCIETY

Emily Margaret Austin was a sister to an empire as the second daughter, born in 1795, to Moses and Maria Brown Austin. She was the sibling of Stephen F. Austin and was very much a matriarch in Texas society. The Emily Austin Society honors benefactors whose philanthropy has been foremost in the success of the College and in recognition of their significant legacy.

COVENANT SOCIETY

Austin College has been sustained in large measure by the dedicated friends and alumni who have made gifts to this institution in their estate plans through bequests, life income agreements, life insurance policies, and life estates. In recognition of such devotion, the Board of Trustees created the Covenant Society to honor those individuals who have included the College as a beneficiary in their planned gift agreements.

DANIEL BAKER SOCIETY

A founder of Austin College, the Reverend Daniel Baker traveled to Texas for missionary work, and in 1849 fulfilled his dream of establishing a college on the frontier. As Austin College's chief advocate, lobbyist, and fundraiser, then as its second president, Baker established service and leadership as the institution's hallmark. The Daniel Baker Society was established in recognition of those whose generous annual support of $25,000 or more keeps the College on the forefront as a leader in higher education.

ALUMNI GIVING

Austin College alumni become “Golden ’Roos” upon the 50th anniversary of their graduation year. These treasured members of the Austin College family are noted as Golden ’Roos in the listing. The College particularly applauds their contributions.

JAMES B. MOORMAN ASSOCIATES

As a young biologist, James Bolling Moorman left his home state of Virginia in 1921 to join the faculty of Austin College. For almost four decades, he contributed to the life of the College, serving as professor of biology and dean of the College. Informally, he was friend, counselor, adviser, and storyteller to many. The James Moorman Associates of the Dean's Council are those who have made gifts of $750 to $999 annually in support of the College.
